Question 6 Answer

To me, the Second Amendment is about far more than firearms. It is the recognition that every law abiding citizen has the fundamental right to defend themselves, their family, and their freedom. As a veteran, I swore an oath to support and defend the Constitution, and that commitment did not end when I left military service. I believe responsible Americans have the right to own and carry firearms for self defense, hunting, sport, and as a safeguard against tyranny, while criminals who misuse firearms should be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. Our constitutional rights should never be diminished because of the actions of those who choose to break the law. The Second Amendment represents freedom, personal responsibility, and the enduring principle that the rights of the people are not granted by government, but protected from government.
